I've never, ever seen it anywhere, nor did my peers, hence it did no materialize. I'm guessing Dave Orton bought the lot of them to use for landfill around his new house.

Oh Dear II

Did you not see ATI taking 27% of the AMD chipset business in the last Mercury Research report ?

That was Xpress 200 in action my friend :~P

That's a chipset, let me spell it out for you b-o-r-i-n-g, people want ATI to make video cards, not chipsets that never materialize (Xpress 200 anyone?).

Andrzej,

That's the best ATI currently can muster to prevent them from being totally out of the picture? I'm sorry, unless you have a R520 on offering I'm not really interested.

Cheers,
